

Answer ID

1789

CategoryMedicare Prescription Drug Coverage
SSA Premium WithholdingDate Created

04/26/2006 03:07 PM

Last Updated

02/05/2008 04:48 PM

What if my monthly Social Security benefit isn't enough to cover multiple premiums at one time?Question

What if my monthly Social Security benefit isn't enough to cover multiple premiums at one time?

Answer

If your monthly Social Security benefit isn't enough to cover multiple premium payments at one time, the premiums won't be deducted. Your plan will bill you directly and you can pay them directly. You also can arrange with your plan for the premiums to be automatically withdrawn from your checking or saving bank account.

